Mobilization for Justice (formerly MFY Legal Services), a non-profit legal services organization that provides a wide range of free civil legal services to low-income New Yorkers, is seeking a staff attorney to join its Mental Health Law Project. The Mental Health Law Project focuses primarily on eviction prevention; ensuring income stability by obtaining and maintaining government benefits, including health benefits; and addressing discrimination against people with mental health disabilities. The staff attorney will focus primarily on providing advice, advocacy, and representation for people with mental health disabilities who are having housing, government benefits, and other civil legal problems. The staff attorney will also be responsible for providing back up to the Mental Health Law Project’s intake attorney.

MFJ’s mission is to achieve justice for all. MFJ prioritizes the needs of people who are low-income, disenfranchised, or have disabilities as they struggle to overcome the effects of social injustice and systemic racism. We provide the highest-quality free, direct civil legal assistance, conduct community education and build partnerships, engage in policy advocacy, and bring impact litigation. We assist more than 14,000 New Yorkers each year, benefitting over 24,000. MFJ has a staff of more than 165 attorneys, paralegals, social workers, and support staff. It is a diverse, unionized, and collegial workplace where staff share the organization’s mission to achieve social justice.

Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Coordinating with and providing regular back up to MHLP’s intake attorney.
- Conducting client intakes in person, on the telephone, or at off-site clinics, including clubhouses, outpatient clinics and hospitals.
- Conducting factual investigations, including site visits.
- Providing clients with advice, brief service and/or advocacy, and representation.
- Researching, writing, and litigating all phases of cases including pleadings, motions, discovery, briefs, hearings, trials and appeals.
- Appearing for clients in Housing Court, Supreme Court, Civil Court, Federal Court and administrative agencies, including NYCHA, HPD, DHCR, HRA, OTDA and SSA.
- Identifying, developing, and commencing impact litigation or policy initiatives to address problems affecting people with mental health disabilities.
- Conducting community outreach and trainings.
- Training mental health providers and other community-based service providers on substantive law and the rights of people with mental health disabilities.
- Engaging in legislative advocacy and lobbying on issues of importance to people with mental health disabilities.
- Working in coalition with advocacy groups on policy issues.
- Providing testimony on proposed legislation or other legislative body topics.
- Inputting and maintaining records in MFJ’s case management system.
• Notarizing your clients’ court or other documents as necessary

Requirements:
1. Admission to the New York State Bar.
2. Experience or demonstrated interest in working with people with mental health disabilities.
3. Two years of experience in housing court or working on government benefits issues.
4. Fluency in Spanish, Mandarin, Cantonese, Russian, Haitian Creole, French, Bangla, Arabic, or Urdu.

Salary is pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement with excellent fringe benefits. The salary range for this position is $73,742.62 to $128,365.06.
